JURY CONVICTS WOMAN OF RUNNING OVER AND KILLING HER CHILD'S FATHER WITH CAR

FLINT – Genesee County Prosecutor David Leyton said that he is pleased with the guilty verdict in the murder case against Ladora Snell.

On Tuesday, a jury convicted Snell, 28 (d.o.b. 8/16/85) of Flint, of second degree murder for hitting and then driving over the father of her child with her car on September 29, 2012.

According to testimony and evidence presented at the trial, Snell had gone over to the residence of Mack Hill Parrish, IV on Yorkshire in the City of Flint to pick up their child. Snell and Parrish got into an argument and Snell got into her car, backed up, directed the vehicle at Parrish and then accelerated.

After striking Parrish, Snell paused for a moment and then ran over his body. Snell then went inside the house, grabbed her child, got back into her car and left. Evidence at trial indicated that Snell called several people on her phone after the incident but never called 9-1-1. Parrish was transported to Hurley Medical Center where he died two days later.

“This was not an easy case but, I am pleased with the verdict of second degree murder,” said Prosecutor Leyton. “Special Assistant Attorney General Barney Whitesman and Flint Police Sergeant Jason Cate and others did an excellent job in preparing the case and presenting it to the jury,” he said.

A sentencing date has been scheduled for December 3rd.
