Project History:

The Furgary Fishing Village also known as “The Shacks” is a cluster of seventeen fishing cabins that have recently been used for recreational purposes. Sanborn maps indicate that the existing buildings evolved from buildings that were in place more than a century ago, and the use of the property has evolved from a fish market at the river’s edge dating from the late nineteenth century. The site is currently eligible for the National Register under Criteria A and in the areas of maritime history, social history, and architecture.
