1. Definition of Confidential Information. “Confidential Information” as used in this Agreement shall mean any and all technical and non-technical information including patent, copyright, trade secret, and proprietary information, techniques, sketches, drawings, models, inventions, know-how, processes, apparatus, equipment, algorithms, software programs, software source documents, and formulae related to the current, future and proposed products and services of each of the parties, and includes, without limitation, each party’s respective information concerning research, experimental work, development, design details and specifications, engineering, financial information, procurement requirements, purchasing, manufacturing, customer lists, business forecasts, sales and merchandising, and marketing plans, price sheets, and quotes. . Any information disclosed by the disclosing party (“Discloser”) will be considered Confidential Information of Discloser by the receiving party (“Recipient”), only if such information (a) is provided as information fixed in a tangible medium of expression, and is conspicuously designated as “Confidential” or “Proprietary” Nondisclosure and Nonuse Obligation. To the extent permitted by law, each of the parties, as Recipient, agrees that such Recipient will not use, disseminate, or in any way disclose any Confidential Information of the other party, as Discloser, to any person, firm or business, except to the extent necessary for internal evaluations in connection with negotiations, discussions, and consultations with personnel or authorized representatives of such Discloser, and for any other purpose such Discloser may hereafter authorize in writing. Furthermore, to the extent permitted by law, the existence of any business negotiations, discussions, consultations or agreements in progress between the parties shall not be released to any form of public media without written approval of both parties. To the extent permitted by law, each of the parties, as Recipient, agrees that such Recipient shall treat all Confidential Information of the other party, as Discloser, with the same degree of care as such Recipient accords to such Recipient’s own Confidential Information, but in no case less than reasonable care. To the extent permitted by law, each of the parties, as Recipient, which is not an individual agrees that such Recipient shall disclose Confidential Information of the other party, as Discloser, only to those of such Recipient’s employees who need to know such information, and such Recipient certifies that such Recipient employees have previously agreed, either as a condition to employment or in order to obtain the Confidential Information of the Discloser, to be bound by terms and conditions substantially similar to those terms and conditions applicable to such Recipient under this Agreement. Each of the parties, as Recipient, shall immediately give notice to the other party, as Discloser, of any unauthorized use or disclosure of Discloser’s Confidential Information. Each of the parties, as Recipient, agrees to assist the other party, as Discloser, in remedying any such unauthorized use or disclosure of Discloser’s Confidential Information. The parties also acknowledge that an individual party shall not be responsible if someone who is not an employee or elected official of that individual party violates the terms of this agreement.

2. Exclusions from Nondisclosure and Nonuse Obligations. The obligations under Paragraph 2 ("Nondisclosure and Nonuse Obligations") of each of the parties, as Recipient, with respect to any portion of the Confidential Information of the other party, as Discloser, shall not apply to such portion that such Recipient can document: (a) was in the public domain at or subsequent to the time such portion was communicated to such Recipient by such Discloser through no fault of such Recipient, (b) was rightfully in such Recipient's possession free of any obligation of confidence at or subsequent to the time such portion was communicated to such Recipient by such Discloser, (c) was developed by employees or agents of such Recipient independently of and without reference to any information communicated to such Recipient by such Discloser, or (d) was communicated by such Discloser to an unaffiliated third party free of any obligation of confidence. A disclosure by a Party, as Recipient, of Confidential Information of the other Party, as Discloser (a) in response to a valid order by a court or other governmental body, including an order of the Court under the Colorado Open Records Act (b) or as otherwise required by law, or (c) necessary to establish the rights of either Party under this Agreement, shall not be considered to be a breach of this Agreement by such Recipient or a waiver of confidentiality for other purposes; provided, however, such Recipient shall provide prompt prior written notice thereof to such Discloser to enable such Discloser to seek a protective order or otherwise prevent such disclosure.

3. Ownership and Return of Confidential Information and Other Materials. All Confidential Information of each of the parties, as Discloser, and any Derivatives thereof whether created by such Discloser or the other party, as Recipient, shall remain the property of Discloser, and no license or other rights to such Discloser's Confidential Information or Derivatives is granted or implied hereby. For purposes of this Agreement, "Derivatives" shall mean: (a) for copyrightable or copyrighted material, any translation, abridgment, revision or other form in which an existing work may be recast, transformed or adapted; (b) for patentable or patented material, any improvement thereon; and (c) for material which is protected by trade secret, any new material derived from such existing trade secret material, including new material which may be protected under copyright, patent and/or trade secret laws. All materials (including, without limitation, documents, drawings, models, apparatus, sketches, designs, lists and all other tangible media of expression) furnished by each of the parties, as Discloser, to the other party, as Recipient, and which are designated in writing to be the property of such Discloser, shall remain the property of such Discloser. At such Discloser's request and no later than five (5) days after such request, such Recipient shall promptly destroy or deliver to such Discloser, at such Discloser's option, (a) all materials furnished to such Recipient by such Discloser, (b) all tangible media of expression in such Recipient's possession or control to the extent that such tangible media incorporate any of such Discloser's Confidential Information, and (c) written certification of such Recipient's compliance with such Recipient's obligations under this sentence.

4. Independent Development. Each of the parties, as Discloser, understands that the other party, as Recipient, may currently or in the future be developing information internally, or receiving information from other parties that may be similar to such Discloser's Confidential Information. Accordingly, nothing in this Agreement will be construed as a representation or inference that such Recipient will not develop products or services, or have products or services developed for such Recipient, that, without violation of this Agreement, compete with the products or systems contemplated by such Discloser's Confidential Information.

5. Disclosure of Third Party Information. Neither party shall communicate any information to the other in violation of the proprietary rights of any third party.

6. No Warranty. All Confidential Information is provided "AS IS" and without any warranty, express, implied or otherwise, regarding such Confidential Information's accuracy or performance.

7. No Export. Neither party shall export, directly or indirectly, any technical data acquired from the other party pursuant to this Agreement or any product utilizing any such data to any country for which the U.S. Government or any agency thereof at the time of export requires an export license or other government approval without first obtaining such license or approval.

8. Term. This Agreement shall govern all communications between the parties that are made during the period from the Effective Date to the date on which either party receives from the other written notice that subsequent communications shall not be so governed, provided, however, that each party's obligations under Paragraph 2 ("Nondisclosure and Nonuse Obligations") with respect to Confidential Information of the other party which such party has previously received shall continue in perpetuity unless terminated pursuant to Paragraph 3 ("Exclusions from Nondisclosure and Nonuse Obligations").

9. No Assignment. Neither party will assign or transfer any rights or obligations under this Agreement without the prior written consent of the other party, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

10. Notices. Any notices required or permitted by this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be delivered as follows, with notice deemed given as indicated: (a) by personal delivery, when delivered personally; (b) by overnight courier, upon written verification of receipt; (c) by telecopy or facsimile transmission, upon acknowledgment of receipt of electronic transmission; or (d) by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested, upon verification of receipt. Notice shall be sent to the addresses set forth above or to such other address as either party may specify in writing.

11. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed in all respects by the laws of the United States of America and by the laws of the State of Colorado. Severability. If any provision of this Agreement is held by a court of law to be illegal, invalid or unenforceable, (i) that provision shall be deemed amended to achieve as nearly as possible the same economic effect as the original provision, and (ii) the legality, validity and enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Agreement shall not be affected or impaired thereby. Nothing herein shall mandate that a Party to this Agreement violate the laws of the State of Colorado.

12. Waiver; Amendment; Modification. No term or provision hereof will be considered waived by either party, and no breach excused by either party, unless such waiver or consent is in writing signed by the party against whom such waiver or consent is asserted. The waiver by either party of, or consent of either party to, a breach of any provision of this Agreement by the other party shall not operate or be construed as a waiver of, consent to, or excuse of any other or subsequent breach by the other party. This Agreement may be amended or modified only by mutual agreement of authorized representatives of the parties in writing.

13. Injunctive Relief. A breach by either party of any of the promises or agreements contained herein will result in irreparable and continuing damage to the other party for which there will be no adequate remedy at law, and such other party shall be entitled to injunctive relief and/or a decree for specific performance, and such other relief as may be proper (including monetary damages if appropriate).

14. Entire Agreement. This Agreement constitutes the entire agreement with respect to the Confidential Information disclosed hereunder and supersedes all prior or contemporaneous oral or written agreements concerning such Confidential Information.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Agreement as of the date first written above.
