7 PUBLIC COMMENT:

7:10pm-7:20pm

Persons wishing to speak on matters not on the agenda may be recognized at this time. The public comment period is a limited public forum and comments are therefore appropriately limited to matters of City concern, official action, or other matters that may come before the City Council.

*Written comment in advance of the meeting is welcome and should be emailed to info@northplains.gov. An individual or community group that wishes to provide public comment virtually must register with the City Recorder by 3:00 pm the day of the meeting and provide their name, address, email, phone, and a general topic.

- a) Chris Edmonds, representing the Eastside Property Owners Coalition, expressed concern about the recent planning commission meeting and the apparent rejection of information presented by DLCD, public testimony, and city staff. He reminded the council of the history of the eastside properties and their involvement in supporting HB 47e in 2014, which left their lands undesignated for future expansion. Edmonds argued that the council's current actions were perpetuating uncertainty for these property owners, preventing them from effectively farming or developing their land.
- b) Doug Ifft, a resident of Brynhill Subdivision in North Plains, expressed concern about cars speeding on Timerick Road. He requested the installation of at least one stop sign to slow traffic, noting the road's length without any stops and its proximity to a park with amenities like pickleball courts. Ifft also mentioned the absence of speed limit signs in the Brynhill area.

- c) Jacquelyn Hunt, who lives outside of the North Plains city limits, and is a fourth-generation farming family member, read a letter expressing their family's perspective on growth and development in North Plains. She highlighted the potential of the Linde reservoir as a community asset and invited council members to walk the area with them to consider future enhancements. Hunt also mentioned exploring models like "Agrihoods" that could strengthen the town's agricultural heritage while allowing for growth. Ms. Hunt provided a document called "Agrihoods - Cultivating Best Practices" for the record.
- d) Emily Waldron, who lives outside the North Plains city limits, expressed concerns about the ongoing UGB conversation. She discussed her experience on the Relook Committee and worried that their findings were being misrepresented. Waldron urged the council to heed DLCD advice to wait for the new housing needs system before making decisions. She also suggested using community events like the ice cream social to gather more public input on growth plans.
- e) Linda Galas-Merten, who lives outside of the North Plains city limits, and representing the North Plains chapter of Strong Towns, reminded the council of the requirement for the city manager to secure a surety bond. She noted that this requirement remained unfulfilled after 6.5 months and urged the council to address the issue promptly.

8 STAFF REPORTS

7:20 pm - 7:40 pm

a) Library Department Monthly Report

Library Director Robin Doughty provided updates on library activities, including the celebration of Asian American, Native Hawaiian, and Pacific Islander Heritage Month. She mentioned the upcoming summer reading program theme "Level Up at Your Library" and a recent $2,000 donation from the Friends of the North Plains Library to support it. Doughty also highlighted the library's communication efforts and a successful hygiene item drive for the Hillsboro School District's McKinney Vento program. The McKinney Vento Act is a federal law that protects the educational rights of students, preschool through 12th grade, experiencing housing instability. Ms. Doughty also mentioned receiving applications for library board appointments, including two requests for reappointment and two new applications. She provided an update on Internet usage statistics, reporting 979 hours of public computer Internet access for April.

b) Police Department Monthly Report

Chief Jones is out of town this week for training. Deputy Steven Schutz presented the police department report. He had no additional comments beyond the written report but answered questions from the council. Councilor Mandy Hagedorn asked about recent incidents of door-to-door solicitors in North Plains. Deputy Schutz confirmed there were ongoing cases but could not provide many details. He advised citizens to call the police if they see suspicious activity, emphasizing the importance of reporting incidents directly rather than only posting on social media.

c) Public Works Monthly Report

Public Works Director Dustin Lueckenotte presented the public works report. He had no additional comments beyond the written report but answered questions from the council.

Councilor Mandy Hagedorn inquired about the emergency management section of the report, particularly regarding a potential new program. Lueckenotte explained they were exploring ways to involve community volunteers while ensuring coordination with existing plans and avoiding duplication of efforts. There was discussion about the city's emergency response planning, including the roles of various staff members and the need for tabletop exercises and training. Lueckenotte mentioned ongoing coordination with Washington County for such exercises. Councilor James Fage asked about backflow testing services. Lueckenotte confirmed they were discussing the possibility of offering this as a city service in the future, noting that staff member Javier Espinoza is certified for backflow testing.

d) Community Development Monthly Report

Planning Manager Steve Miller, appearing remotely, provided an update on the community development department's activities. He discussed ongoing work on business signage along Highway 26 and elaborated on the need for a comprehensive tree policy in the city. Miller explained that the current situation with some large pine trees causing issues for neighboring properties highlighted the need for better regulations on tree maintenance and removal within city limits.

9 UNFINISHED BUSINESS: None

10 NEW BUSINESS:

7:45 pm - 8:00 pm

a) Review & Approval of Application for Fee Waiver of Jessie Mays

City Manager Bill Reid presented the revised application for fee waivers at Jessie Mays Community Center. He explained that the Parks and Recreation Board had made changes to clarify eligibility criteria and emphasized the need for applicants to demonstrate a public good.

Questions and discussion ensued. The council discussed potential limitations on the frequency of fee waivers and the process for appeals. After discussion, the council agreed to approve the application as written, with the understanding that staff would monitor its implementation and report back if any issues arise.

Move to approve the Jessie Mays non-profit fee waiver request application as written.

Moved by Councilor Fage. Second by Councilor Dumbrow.
Motion was approved unanimously.

11 REPORTS

8:00 pm - 8:30 pm

a) City Manager Report

City Manager Bill Reid provided updates on the budget process, mentioning the upcoming public hearing meeting on Thursday. He also announced that North Plains had been awarded a $1 million brownfield grant from the US Environmental Protection Agency for soil cleanup in the blink of opportunity area. Reid cautioned that while this was excellent news, there were still steps to be taken to secure the grant fully.

b) Council Reports

Councilor Trista Papen raised concerns about speeding in the Brynhill area, echoing the public comment from earlier in the meeting. She suggested bringing this up as a future agenda item to explore potential solutions like additional stop signs or speed bumps.

Councilor Papen then reported on her attendance at the Tualatin Valley Fire and Rescue Citizen Academy, describing it as a valuable experience that provided insight into the fire district's operations and culture. She recommended all councilors take the opportunity to attend this academy if they are able.

Councilor Hagedorn expressed excitement about the brownfield grant and its potential impact on the city.

Councilor Fage announced an upcoming fundraising event for the Washington County Justice Center Family Center on May 31st. It is a semi-formal dinner, and he invited the other councilors to attend to support this great cause.

Councilor McCall-Wallace reported on her attendance at a chamber meeting where she learned about the Green Light project and Centro Cultural's involvement in community programming.

Councilor Redding reported on her attendance at the Parks and Recreation Board meeting, noting their concern about the lack of land for new parks within the current UGB.

Council President Dumbrow provided updates from the Economic Development Commission meeting, including discussions about new business surveys and the potential formation of a Glencoe Opportunity Business Association. He also mentioned the need for an upcoming Urban Renewal Agency board meeting. He also mentioned participating in the Veterans Park cleanup and meeting the new owner of the Rogue, suggesting inviting them to speak at a future council meeting about their vision for the business.
