

Riverside Unveils New Website

New Site Offers Increased Functionality for Users

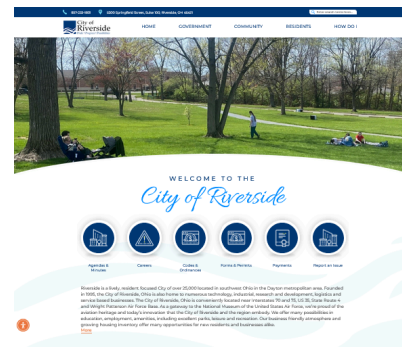

The City of Riverside continues to move forward in providing user friendly technology for its citizens and visitors. Users will notice a more vibrant site with a more clear and concise directory in addition to six highlighted buttons featured on the main page.

According to Communications Manager Katie Lewallen, the goal is to provide a more user-friendly and informative website.

“We hope to increase citizen engagement, provide accurate and timely information, and improve overall online customer service with our new and mobile-friendly website,” states Lewallen.

Users will see drop down menu options in the main menu: Government, Community, Residents, and How Do I.

The new ‘Get Notified’ under How Do I introduces a one stop shop where users can select what types of notifications they would like to receive from the City.

Users can opt to receive an email or text message for information such as the city newsletter, agendas, calendar events, and more.

New online fillable forms continue to be integrated into the site as well as updated information. Visit our new site at www.riversideoh.gov.
