Tonaquint Park: 1851 South Dixie Drive, St. George, UT 84770

Tonaquint Park is a community park located next to the Santa Clara River. The Santa Clara River Trail runs through the park. This location is known to be a former Southern Paiute community. Interpretive signage is around Tonaquint Park explaining why this area was important to the Southern Paiutes.

The first sign identifies that this area was the homeland for the Tunakwint Southern Paiute. The second sign provides information on the Southern Paiute homelands. The third sign historically discusses the people who used this place. The fourth sign discusses the importance of the Santa Clara River to the Southern Paiute. The fifth sign discusses ethnobotany.

