2. CREATING SEARCH BOUNDARIES

Using the “Buffer” allows you to search crime statistics within a specific geographic area.

This will provide insight to what types of crimes are occurring within your community.

The radius of your search can expand out as small as 500 feet and as large as five miles.

3. SELECTING A DATE RANGE:

There are three options:

1. Use the “Quick Date” drop down box with has a range beginning at 3 days and ends up to one year.

2. Use the “Date Range” tool and enter a specific Start Date and End Date.

3. Check the “View points using time slider” box. A time slider tool will appear to help you choose a date range.

The screenshot displays the LexisNexis Community Crime Map interface. The top navigation bar includes the LexisNexis logo, the text "Community Crime Map", and links for "Sign up for crime alerts" and "Clear Filters". The main interface is divided into a left sidebar and a central map area. The sidebar contains a "Menu" with options for "Map", "Data Grid", "Analytics", and "Metadata". Below the menu is a "Search Address" section with a search bar and a "Go to Address" button. The "JUMP TO CITY" section has a search bar and a "Go to Address" button. The "BUFFER" section has a checkbox for "On" and a "0.5 miles" dropdown. The "Date Range" section has a "QUICK DATE" dropdown, a "DATE RANGE" section with "Start Date" and "End Date" fields, and a checkbox for "View points using time slider". The "Event" section has a "Date Range" dropdown. The "Offenders" section has a "Date Range" dropdown. The "Analytic Layers" section has a "Date Range" dropdown. The "Agency Layers" section has a "Date Range" dropdown. The "About Community Crime Map" section has a "Date Range" dropdown. The central map area shows a map of the United States with a "Date Range" dialog box open. The dialog box has a "QUICK DATE" dropdown, a "DATE RANGE" section with "Start Date" and "End Date" fields, and a checkbox for "View points using time slider". A time slider tool is visible at the bottom of the map area, showing a date range of "8/24/2015 - 9/17/2015".

4. SELECTING EVENTS

The “Event” tab allows you to select which report types you would like to see.

You can select all of the call types or narrow your search neighborhood specific call types such as residential burglaries.

- Homicide
- Attempted Homicide
- Death Investigation
- Sexual Assault
- Sexual Offense - Other
- Robbery - Commercial
- Robbery - Individual
- Aggravated Assault
- Assault - Other
- Burglary - Commercial

Community Crime Map is best viewed in Internet Explorer 9+, Firefox and Chrome.

For this particular search, I chose the following criteria:

- Address:
200 E Anderson St,
Stockton, CA
- Buffer: One Mile
- Date Range: 28 Days
- Event: Burglary-
Residential

Now its time to select:

Go to Address

... and review our search results.

6. EXAMINING THE RESULTS

This search produced five occurrences based on our search criteria.

- The map displays multiple symbols representing where the calls have occurred geographically.
- You can click each symbol for more detail regarding each particular incident.
- The Black circle represents the 1 mile Buffer we selected.

8. LOCATING CRIME TRENDS

Click the Analytics layer to display the results of your search through a series of four graphs:

- Crime Class by percentage
- Crime type by day of the week.
- Crime Class Timeline
- Day of the week by hour

This type of analytic data is similar to what Crime Analysts use to establish crime trends.

IN CLOSING

- Recognizing various Crime Trends can make criminal behavior predictable based on location, time of occurrence and other factors.
- Having current crime statistics readily available, along with possible suspect descriptions can ultimately lead to an arrest of a habitual offender.
- Being knowledgeable of up to date crime statistics will help you keep your community informed.
- Helping us keep a watchful eye on what is occurring in your neighborhood will help us serve you more effectively.

Go to: <https://communitycrimemap.com/> and begin learning how to be your own crime analyst for your community.
