

THE MAYOR'S MESSAGE
JULIE FULLMER

Dear Vineyard Residents,

Happy New Year, Vineyard!

As we enter 2025, Vineyard is energized by the incredible momentum we've built together. This year promises to bring remarkable progress, exciting opportunities, and continued growth as we strengthen our community.

In the months ahead, we will celebrate the groundbreaking of the Huntsman Cancer Institute in Vineyard—a transformative project that will bring world-class healthcare and research directly to our city.

Additionally, in the next month, as part of our State of the City Address, we honor the outstanding individuals, partners, and businesses that made a lasting impact in 2024. At this event, we will also announce a celebratory groundbreaking event—for a long-awaited addition that will enhance convenience and services for our residents.

As the year unfolds, we'll continue fostering partnerships, building connections, and working on initiatives that improve our quality of life.

2025 welcomes transition, and the year will close with a municipal election—a pivotal moment for you to shape the future of Vineyard through your vote.

As we look to the future, I will announce initiatives to focus on that drive innovation and collaboration. Please follow our city media pages and this link for updates. Let's carry the positive energy of these achievements into 2025 as we build a stronger, more connected community.

Thank you for your contributions, collaboration, and vision for making Vineyard extraordinary. Here's to a year filled with growth, kindness, and shared success.

Warm regards,
Mayor Julie Fullmer

A SAFER 2025: SHARE YOUR FEEDBACK WITH KNOW YOUR FORCE

The Utah County Sheriff's Office-Vineyard Division would like to wish you a happy and safe 2025! We are grateful to serve you and your community.

We strive to provide the best public safety for the residents of Vineyard. The Utah County Sheriff's Office has started using Know Your Force. Know Your Force provides citizens with a platform to give feedback regarding the service received. After an incident, deputies will be providing citizens with a QR code that will take them to this survey. This provides important feedback to help us continually improve our service to you. You can find the QR code for the survey on the Utah County Sheriff's Office home page. You can learn more about Know Your Force here.

As always, please report any suspicious activity to the Utah County Sheriff's Office at 801-798-5600. If it's an emergency, dial 911.

Follow us on Facebook or Instagram for additional updates about things going on around Vineyard.

SNOW REMOVAL GUIDELINES

During this winter season, Vineyard City wants to ensure our streets stay safe and accessible for all. With this in mind, we kindly ask that you follow the guidelines below. Your cooperation will help our community remain safe and connected all winter long.

No Street Parking When Snow is Present (November 1st – March 1st)

During the winter months, please avoid parking on the streets between November 1st and March 1st. This helps our snow plows clear the roads efficiently and reduces the risk of accidents. Vehicles left on the streets may be towed to ensure safe and thorough snow removal. Please remove basketball hoops, trailers, and boats from the road as well.

Be Courteous Around Snow Plows

Snow plow operators work hard to keep our streets clear. Please give them the space they need to operate safely. Avoid tailgating or passing snow plows, as visibility around these vehicles can be limited. Following these guidelines helps protect you and our crew members.

Do Not Push or Plow Snow into the Roadway

When shoveling or plowing your driveway, please avoid pushing snow into the street. This can create hazardous conditions for drivers, make it difficult for our plows to keep streets clear, and lead to fines for residents. Let's work together to keep our roads safe!

Clear Your Own Sidewalks and Driveways

Each resident is responsible for clearing their sidewalks and driveways of snow and ice. Clear pathways help everyone move safely through the community and reduce the risk of slips and falls. Thank you for doing your part to keep Vineyard safe.

We appreciate your attention to these guidelines and your commitment to keeping Vineyard City safe and accessible during the winter season. Thank you for your cooperation, and please stay safe!

WATER AND SEWER RATE CHANGES EFFECTIVE JANUARY 1, 2025

We want to inform you about an upcoming adjustment to utility rates, effective January 1, 2025. While the new rates will take effect starting January 1, you will see the change reflected on your bill beginning February 1, 2025. This change is essential to support the long-term sustainability and efficiency of water and wastewater services.

Vineyard has financial agreements in place to fund critical upgrades to the water and sewer infrastructure. These agreements include modest annual adjustments – 4% for water services and 2% for sewer services – to ensure the city meets inflationary demands while also maintaining reliable operations for our growing community.

Additionally, the city’s wastewater treatment provider, Timpanogos Special Service District (TSSD), recently increased its treatment rates by 15%. As Vineyard is one of 10 municipalities served by TSSD, this increase is a direct pass-through cost beyond local control. It reflects the rising cost of delivering these essential services.

We understand that rate adjustments can be challenging, and we remain committed to transparency and ensuring that every dollar supports the safe and efficient delivery of vital utilities to Vineyard residents. Thank you for your understanding and support.

UTAH CITY ANNOUNCES 'GREENING OF UTAH CITY' INITIATIVE AND GROUNDBREAKING OF THE GREENLINE PROMENADE

UTAH CITY, Utah (December 12, 2024) - Utah City, a mixed-use development in Utah County, is taking a monumental first step in its commitment to creating inspiring outdoor spaces with the launch of the "Greening of Utah City" initiative and the groundbreaking of the 12-acre Greenline promenade that runs through the heart of the development. Partnering with landscape architecture firm OJB, DIG Studio, and Brightview Utah City will plant over 1000 trees this spring and break ground on the new 12-acre Greenline promenade, all within the first 50-acres of its 700-acre master-planned development. This initiative reflects Utah City's dedication to revitalizing the area, prioritizing environmental sustainability, and blending nature with timeless architecture.

Trees played a fundamental role in the design of The Greenline in Utah City. Trees were used to organize and shape each of the key spaces that included perimeter streetscapes, the multi-use lawn, picnic pavilions, the children's play areas, garden courts and botanical plantings. Trees were laid out to define areas within the park, creating natural boundaries, guiding pathways, and areas of shade that enhance the flow and usability of the landscape. Various tree species were selected to complement each of the park spaces, making them more comfortable and inviting. Species were selected for their varied foliage, both evergreen and deciduous.

"Trees are indispensable in parks, enriching the ecological, aesthetic, and recreational value of these cherished green spaces," said OJB Principal Jereck Boss. "Our design process—from thoughtfully laying out and selecting the best tree varieties, to tagging the highest-quality stock and ensuring careful planting in well-prepared soil—ensures that the trees along The Greenline will grow and thrive. It's all about creating a meaningful connection between people and nature."

The tree selection process, already underway this November, considers Utah's unique climate and the selections are drought tolerant with low water requirements. The chosen species include Ruby Sunset Maples, Emerald Sunshine Elms, Prairie Gold Quaking Aspens, and Norwegian Sunset Maples. The selected trees will offer vital habitats for wildlife, fostering biodiversity and seasonal interest. To ensure water efficiency, the project employs subsurface irrigation, smart irrigation controllers, and landscaping techniques designed to minimize water waste while maximizing shade and beauty. As the trees mature, a robust tree canopy has been designed to reduce the urban heat island effect and transform the city into a walkable, shaded sanctuary that balances city life with a variety of outdoor community spaces.

"Planting these trees is an investment in our city's future," said Vineyard Mayor Julie Fullmer. "This initiative promotes thoughtful growth and a balanced blend of nature and urban life. This initiative ensures our community becomes a thriving place for families and businesses, inspiring growth that neighboring cities resonate with and match."

"Planting these trees is an investment in our city's future," said Vineyard Mayor Julie Fullmer. "This initiative promotes thoughtful growth and a balanced blend of nature and urban life. This initiative ensures our community becomes a thriving place for families and businesses, inspiring growth that neighboring cities resonate with and match."

The trees will adorn iconic areas of Utah City, including the first residential streets, Main Street and The Greenline promenade that will run from the Vineyard FrontRunner Station through the center of Utah City to the shores of Utah Lake. The first phase of The Greenline promenade will feature an all-abilities play area and several event lawns that will be programmed year-round. Phase one of The Greenline will be open to the public in the summer of 2025.

"We are just getting started," said Nate Hutchinson, co-managing partner for Flagship Home. "Our goal is to create outdoor spaces that people truly love and connect with. These green spaces aren't just about adding beauty – they're about creating places where families, friends, and neighbors can come together, relax, and make memories. We believe that investing in accessible, welcoming and beautiful spaces makes Utah City a vibrant, healthy, and sustainable community where everyone can enjoy an awesome quality of life."

"We are excited for Utahns to start to be able to use the amenities of this project that we want everyone – whether you are a resident of Utah City or not – to come and enjoy and participate in," said Jeff Woodbury, senior vice president of development and acquisitions for Woodbury Corporation. "The Greenline will be one of the most thoughtfully planned, entertaining and beautiful gathering places for all Utahns in the state."

The "Greening of Utah City" initiative will officially launch with a ceremonial tree planting event in the spring of 2025, inviting community members and media to celebrate the planting of The Greenline's first tree. Marking the beginning of a long-term effort to establish Utah City as the cultural, environmental, and social heart of Utah County.
